Allermuir

Vol.2

The little Axl girl.
1884/2020

Allermuir is a creative laboratory, youthful and witty here to challenge perceptions.

We don't like to go with the flow. We like to try new things. Different directions, searching for inspiration in art, architecture, science, technology, nature, film, photography, music... wherever our instinct takes us.

Testament to this, we've recently worked with a series of contemporary illustrators to do just that. Each illustrator was given an Allermuir product to creatively interpret, throughout each volume of the Lookbook, we'll show you the results.

Volume Two

Welcome to the Allermuir Lookbook.

Here you'll find the labours of our love, fruits of our imaginations and even some of our best kept secrets.

We believe that this is not just furniture, but the setting to so many important scenes in our lives — we hope you enjoy the experience.

Allermuir

Take chances. Step out of your comfort zone.
Be disruptive. Lead with ideas, craft and design.
This is how you will stay interesting.

By surprising yourself, unsurprisingly,
creative flair strikes you in every day life.

This is Allermuir.

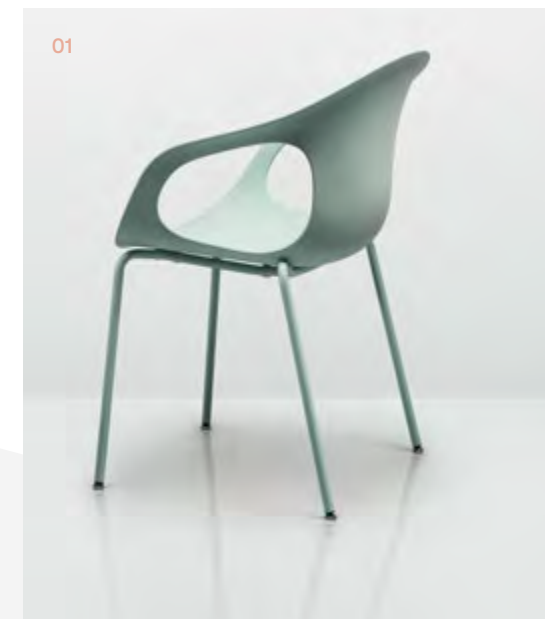

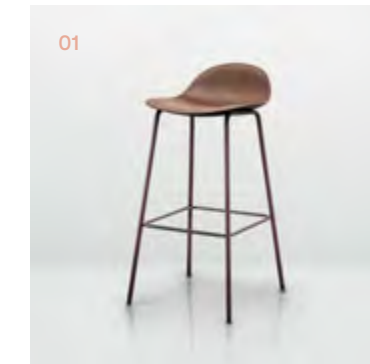

Chairs & Stools.

Allermuir creates contemporary furniture for hospitality and corporate sectors. Our creative influence can be seen in public spaces, reception areas, breakout zones, bars, cafés and restaurants all over the world. Frequently collaborating with world-class designers, we make sure quality is consistently high by bringing all products to life with our own manufacturing facilities.

01 Kin.
Design by PearsonLloyd

Kin is a family of elegantly strong mono-shell seating and 'family' was the ethos from the very beginning. Often, a range develops from an original design for a single piece and is then stretched to apply to other furniture, but Kin's purpose was to be one coherent and harmonious collective. So, there are no poor cousins, just strong, compelling characters allowed to thrive alone and together in a diverse and demanding array of settings.

The range comprises a tub chair, an arm chair, a side chair and stool, but with myriad base, colour and plastic or upholstery options, the family extends to multiple interlinked possibilities that will always bear a likeness to one another.

01 Quincy.
Design by
Allermuir Design Team

A modern dining or meeting chair with an elegant construction comprising of a seamless polyurethane shell and solid wood legs, poised on nylon glides.

02 JoJo.
Johannes Foersom
& Peter Hiort-Lorenzen

The elegant and curvaceous stool seat is created from 3D veneered plywood or PU to provide one of the most comfortable stool seat shapes. JoJo has three frame options including high and low versions.

Chairs & Stools

01 Folk. Design by PearsonLloyd

Folk is a mercurial, but modest family of chairs, stools and tables. Its earthy simplicity just feels right, like it's a design that's always been around.

Folk is both timeless in its seemingly familiar design, and timely in its modest and ingenious flexibility. A range of wood, plastic and aluminium finishes, different colours and upholstery options allow you to change

Folk's flavour so that it can appear like a range of different chairs that somehow sit together harmoniously in one space.

Lookbook

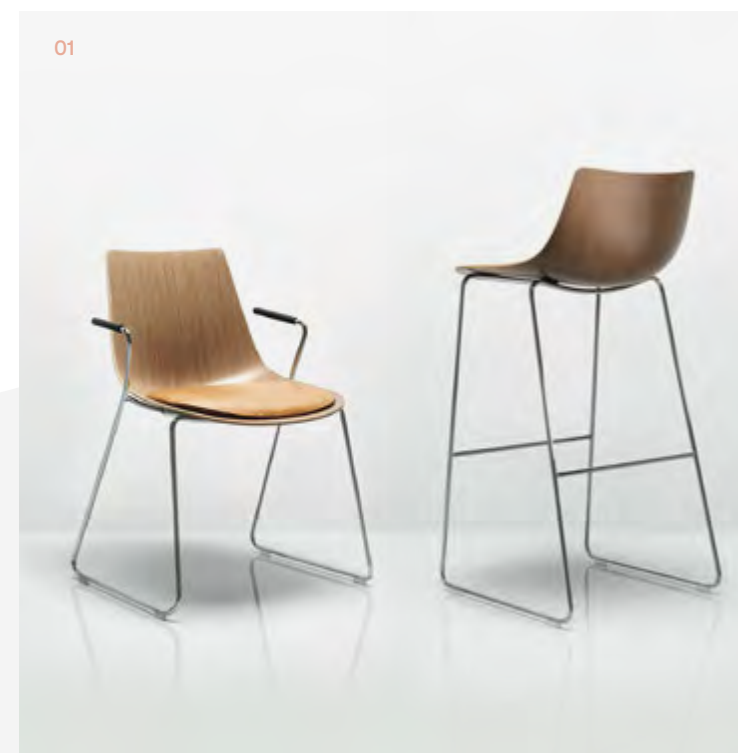

01 Curve.
Design by PearsonLloyd

Curve offers a high level of comfort and shape, without compromising on style and function. This stacking side chair or armchair has a slender chrome wire frame that complements the elegant, balanced ply form.

Lookbook

02 Jaicer.
Design by
Allermuir Design Team

With Jaicer, we set out to create a simply beautiful chair that was constructed entirely from wood. Jaicer has been created to work across a multitude of environments; from ad hoc use in a contemporary workplace to the hospitality environment.

01 Axl.
Design by
Benjamin Hubert | LAYER

Axl has a strong geometric design language that is entirely original yet draws on familiar references, such as the A-frame typology and a Mid-Century Danish wrap-around shell.

The collection has been robustly engineered with a smart stacking structure and is efficiently lightweight.

02 Axl Stool.
Design by
Benjamin Hubert | LAYER

Sharing the same characterful design language as the chair. It is entirely symmetrical with double waterfall edges on the plastic seat and double footrests to maximise comfort no matter which side a user approaches it from.

Luke Pearson

We sat down with one of the creative minds behind many past, present and future classic pieces for Allermuir.

You've designed just about everything from waste bins to aeroplane seats. What is left? What do you want to accomplish in the coming years?

LP \ Electric transportation is on my mind presently. We generate an excess of electricity at night which can be stored and utilised in the day. In general we are becoming more concerned about the impact of what we produce. We are mindful in that we don't design fast moving consumer goods and most of our products last a long time. I quite often see them posted on eBay now as collectible. However, we face a serious challenge here so going forwards quality and thoughtfulness are key.

The bathroom sector is also an area we are beginning to work in which is interesting as wellness increases in importance and it's an area where good ideas and elegant solutions seem to go hand in hand.

What is the best piece of advice design or otherwise that you have ever been given?

LP \ Listen and be careful not to let confidence become arrogance. People are very fast to jump to conclusions, assume they understand something and so very often true understanding is hidden in the smallest detail. Keep looking there is more than one way to skin a cat.

What new materials and technologies interest you the most right now?

LP \ We are seeing a textile revolution although the synthetic aspect may have hidden problems due to micro fibres being washed into the sea eventually. On that note we also see more and more natural fibres being made from plants previously not used or forgotten technologies and crafts being tested. This is being seen in plastics as well where fibres and other compounds are being added as structural fillers. In terms of technology I'd have to say anything which is sustainable. More efficient processes using less energy. There is even talk of Aluminium mining reducing because there is so much in circulation we will soon be able to recycle only. I doubt this will happen as I am sure the future cars will drop steel in favour of aluminium in a quest to reduce weight and therefore eke out more distance from new batteries.

Into which space would you most like to place an Allermuir piece?

LP \ Buckingham Palace.

Besides design, what are you passionate about?

LP \ Nature. It's where most of my understanding of design comes from.

What do you think the most significant developments in furniture/product design have been in the last few years?

LP \ In terms of furniture I'd have to say new typologies around workspace design. It's what we have focussed on over the last twenty years and it continues to change as technology liberates the user. In terms of product design it's clearly the internet of things. The ability to embed technology using super low amounts of energy will really change things. Data and what we do with it could radically improve efficiency and help us really understand user habits. We have to look at this positively because the alternative is rather dark.

We are at a very interesting moment where technology on the one hand is liberating us and on the other proving to be a huge problem in that our consumption increases as we find new ways to make more things we may or may not need faster and cheaper. One day we will look back and ask why we ever thought 'cheap' was a good idea

What makes you excited about Mondays?

LP \ The 'M'.

Spend more time looking for meaningful solutions, it's not enough just to do another one.

\ Luke Pearson.
PearsonLloyd

Is there any artists, designers or architects from the past that have influenced you or that you particularly appreciate the work of?

LP \ Iggy Pop, David Byrne, Steve Reich for music. Alexander Calder has been a great influence in terms of art and sculpture. His Circus was magical and watching him perform in old movies was a delight. My design heroes are Jean Prouve and Achille Castiglioni who both had a magical understanding of build and materials and put things together in poetic, non conformist ways.

In your opinion, what kind of design is good design?

LP \ That's complex but I think we have to put sustainable high on that list. But beyond that, Design that has meaning, purpose, lasts and fills the user ultimately with pleasure. Beauty is often seen as a dirty word but it's those items which we look after and seek out in flea markets isn't it. It's what we do as humans, shape the world around us beyond just function. It's needed for the soul.

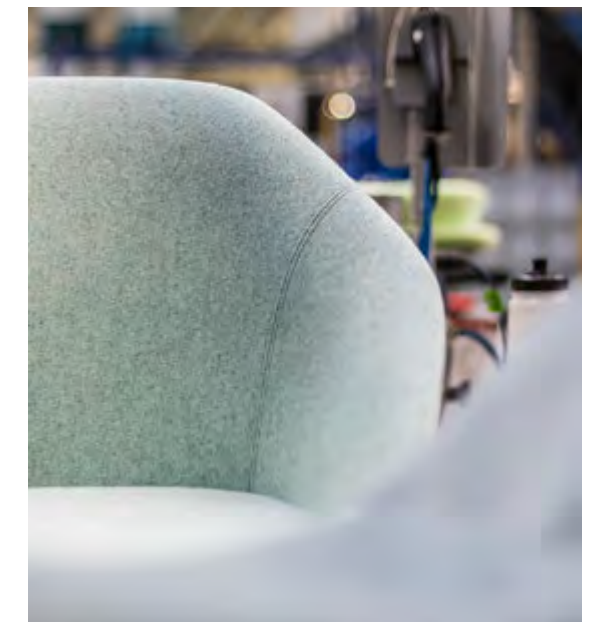

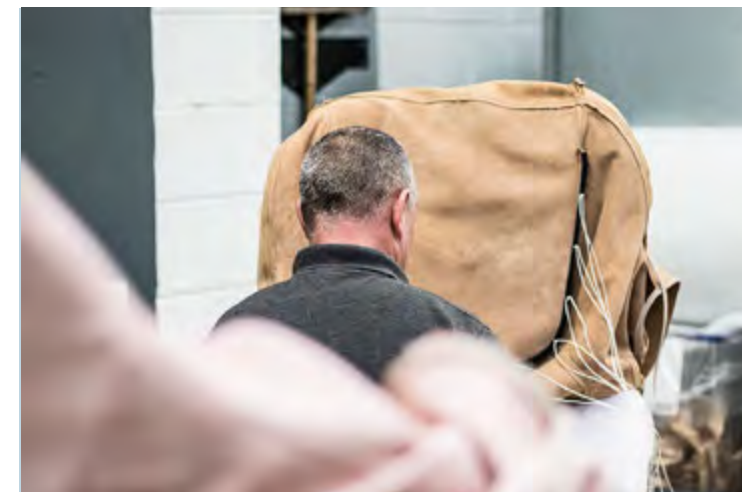

The Famiglia story.

Famiglia was born from a very simple observation about space utilisation and collaboration. The observation was simply about maximising how chairs both fit in a space but also sit next to each other.

Naturally people don't want to sit on an XY grid, they tend to huddle in a more organic fashion. The hexagon, long used by bees to maximise space, was abstracted and squashed to form the base form of the Famiglia chair scope.

The widest part of the chairs is the arm rest and the narrowest part is the headrest and front of seat. This distortion of the hexagon makes the chairs plan into a space very effectively. Used individually the chairs can be placed in corners or alcoves, used together, the shape allows chairs to sit close to each other giving the user the maximum seating comfort, but allowing great circulation space around the chairs themselves.

"The subtle simplicity of Famiglia provides a discrete efficiency whilst delivering a distinctive and harmonious form language"

\ Luke Pearson. PearsonLloyd.

Soft Seating.

We take chances. We like to step out of our comfort zone and be disruptive, we are led by ideas, craft and design. Perhaps unsurprisingly, there's no typical application for Allermuir designs – you may find them in a coffee shop, a transport hub, a chic retail space or a multinational's foyer. But one thing should strike you with each design – creative flair.

Allermuir takes chances. It's a brand that likes to step out of its comfort zone, be disruptive and is led by ideas, craft and design. Perhaps unsurprisingly, there's no typical application for Allermuir designs – you may find them in a coffee shop, a transport hub, a chic retail space or a multinational's foyer.

But one thing should strike you with each design – creative flair.

Stay interesting. Surprise yourself.
